SPIRIT

MAKING

The 1993 SPIRIT's theme is Making The Pieces Fit.

This theme is one of significance to us all, we all have our own place at Mill River, whether it be a seventh grader or a graduating senior. We all have our own special activities and schedules. This is why our Mill River puzzle is so diverse, yet some how through a greater power called "higher education" all of us ended up here at Mill River Union High School developing each of our pieces to be apart of the puzzle of life.

Pieces Fit

LARGEST PIECE OF THE PIE

The 1993 Mill River Yearbook staff is dedicating the book to the group of individuals that make Mill River possible, THE COMMUNITY. Mill River Union High School exists solely on the efforts made by all of the members of it contributing towns including: Clarendon, Shewsbury, Wallingford, and Timmoh. Without the community's support and encouragement Mill River wouldn't be able to give each student a good well rounded education. This yearbook gives Mill River Union High School a chance to say thank you for making Mill River a very special place.

Dances.....

When you think of a school dance, what is the first thing that pops into your head? Is it when? who will I go with? what will I wear? Or how can I avoid it? No matter, what your answers is, most people find out that school dances are a great place to go to meet up with friends, socialize, and sometimes even dance. Each year one of the most popular dances is the Peer friends/SADD sponsored Halloween dance. This year in addition to this theme dance, the Student Council sponsored semi-formal which was a success.

PIECES FALL

Hanging Around, with nothing to do and no place to go, is the answer you give a teacher when they ask? Gathering places like the lockers, bathrooms, music room, and the smoking area are the places to meet friends, exchange stories, and relax. A chance to be free !! Without a teacher's alluring glances and probing questions. This is the time you've waited 45 minutes through the slowest video for. This is the time to make memories.

Right: A group of dedicated soccer spectators.

Whether it be by BMW, Volkswagon, Chevy, Ford, Chrysler, Bus, or even by wheelchair students get to school usually on time and unharmed.

VOCATIONAL

At Stafford Technical Center there are courses dealing with cooking, marketing, automotive, childcare, and many other occupational choices. The students can attend Stafford Technical Center in the mornings or for afternoon classes. A Vocational education is a good way to develop a better understanding of occupational choices. The experiences and training that have been established at the Stafford Technical Center will assist students in their future careers.

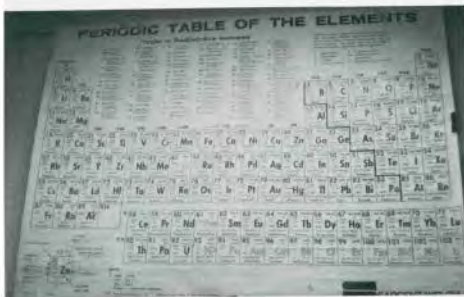

TECHNOLOGY

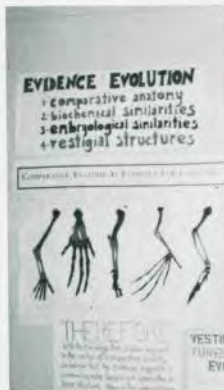

S c i e n c e

F a i r 93

This year, as done every year at Mill River, the students in grades 7-12 (excluding those lucky juniors) participate in the Science Fair. Projects are chosen and checked by teachers for originality, creativity and scientific bases. Students begin to work on projects in late December or early January, but there are those who wait until the last minute. The projects are graded in class and in most cases that grade is worth 25% of the students marking period grade. On Fair night each student is responsible for their project. They are judged, and at the end of the evening there is an awards presentation. If a student has done an outstanding job with their project it is possible for them to participate in the Vermont State Science Fair.

he pieces that escape

During the school year many classes take trips out side of the Mill River area to see what the world has to offer. The teachers insist that these field trips are for educational reasons but, we all know better. Each of our faces shine when the teacher announces that your class is taking a trip somewhere. It doesn't matter where, because no one minds taking a day off, even the teachers. At the right: Steve Smith stands in front of Jim Morrisons grave in Paris. Below center: A group of 12 grade Adv. tudent Council

The Mill River Student Council is made up of three representatives from each grade seventh through twelfth. This years, council members sponsored the first Mill River Semi-Formal Dance which proved to be very lucrative. They also sold tickets for students and faculty to guess how many M&M's were in the jar. Mr. Markie won with the closest guess. This years Student Council Members are: Christa Trombly, Holly Repinski, Gail Brown, Sara Smith, Jonathan Lorentz, Marian Berryhill, Heather Lebel, Ali Jesser, Krista Raymond, Valorie Costantino, Mal Warner, Jeremy Flood, LeRoy Kimball, Leisa Jesser, Molly Carleton, Hannah Wilson, Tonya Audy, Peter Bride, and David Harlow.

To the students involved with Stage 40 it is not just an activity but a way of life! The friendships that are made between students as they work along side each other through long hours and late nights of rehearsals and techs are ones that will not soon be forgotten. Although it is times surviving on adrenaline and caffeine alone the members of Stage 40 successfully put on their fall show "Inherit the Wind" which had a cast of over 55, a good sized tech crew, and a live monkey, Desi. For the first time in many years the set, which was also one of the largest constructed for Stage 40, was completed as planned. The other technical aspects of the show were also perfected, right down to the mustache given to Chris Geiser so that Mr. Marsh could finally tell the Geiser twins apart.

Stage 40 also hosted the VT State Drama Festival this year and designed the Stage 20 show. From the lead roles to the walk-ons, from the technicians, managers, board members, and advisors everyone involved with Stage 40 is dependent on each other to have a successful season such as this one. The seniors that are leaving Stage 40 will leave behind much blood, sweat, and tears to the company and the younger members of the company will be sure to put in their share also. Stage 40 becomes a second family to most of its members filled with people who respect, love, and dedicate themselves to each other and the theater. 1992-1993 Producer: Sharon Norton

Stage 20 is the Junior High drama company. It held workshops and a winter show this year to get the junior high students involved in the theater. Many Stage 20 students move on to Stage 40 and it is here that many of them gain the experience they can put to use in Stage 40. Although younger and less experienced than Stage 40 members, the Stage 20 members work very hard on both their acting roles and their technical work. Their hard work and dedication definitely paid off this year when the winter show Wiley and The Hairy Man that was performed on Jan. 15 and 16th was a huge success. The play was directed by Janna Salmon and designed by a team of Stage 40 members. As someone who worked closely with the Stage 20 students this year, I must tell you, you will want to keep your eyes open in years to come for the many talented students who worked in Stage 20. Their accomplishments in the theater have only just begun. -Sharon Norton-

O ur

A day in OUR LIVES. Get up, jump in the shower, throw on some clothes, and run out the door. We know that if we are one minute late Mr. Stevens will be saying the first "Good Morning". Every student's schedule differs and yet they are very much the same, first period, second period, and so on and so on. Each day would be the same except for the few minutes of social freedom, at lunch, during study halls, or after school. Some students leave for work after working at school all day. Others stay after school and work at a sport or an selected activities, like the yearbook. Mill River has provided a variety of courses and activities for our enjoyment, for our development, for our memories that we may share for the rest of our lives.

Chamber Singers, usually seen in their white and black dress with red cumcuns and bow ties, are a group of students who sing self directed, in a choral form. Mill River's Peer Friends group is made up of students in grades 7 through 12. They are a support system for each other and their own classmates. They put on the annual Halloween Dance and take two trips to the Farm and Wilderness camps each school year to relax, and learn more about each other as well as develop skills to become strong leaders. Although SADD did start later than usual this year the group, although being small, was very energetic. They worked along with the Peers group to sponsor the Halloween dance and participated with many new projects during Red Ribbon Week. The SADD group's main goal is to stop drinking and driving, especially where teenagers are concerned. The group works to inform the public, and educate themselves further to put an end to the many unnecessary deaths caused by alcoholic related accidents each year. Top left this year's members are Mr. McShane, A. Fredricks, S. Norton, H. Kendall, M. McQuade, R. Merrow, and M. Wilcox. Missing: P. White. Bottom left: Board members: C. Roberts, S. Norton, M. NATIONAL HONORS SOCIETY

This year's NATIONAL HONORS SOCIETY consisted of 12 members who were inducted into the group based on evaluations of the following characteristics: knowledge, scholarship, character, and service. Despite this year's small membership the group was extremely active. During the fall the group held a bottle drive to raise money for their largest project of the year, the Holiday Food Baskets. Baskets were distributed to 55 families, a huge success made possible by the hard work and participation of the NHS members, MRUHS students and faculty, and the Mill River Community. NHS members also organized and delivered Valentine carnations, participate in service projects, and many other activities during the year (including pizza parties at Harlowman's).

The NHS members would like to thank those students who generously gave their time throughout the year to food baskets, the school store, and especially those who spent hours in the freezing rain during the fall bottle drive. Words of appreciation must also be expressed to Mr. Harlow for his many words of encouragement and hours sacrificed to the group, even when Trav left the check on the loading dock or when Seth and Susannah disbursed a crate of oranges across the McDonald's intersection

Yearbook Staff

Tedious yet rewarding, the hard work of this dedicated staff continues. There are those times for games and fun, but yet work is always in sight.

This years staff had quite a turnout. Almost everyone was new, but learning how to take good pictures and forming a layout was only half the fun. We also had a great time with those late night pizza party meetings where we all scrambled to meet deadlines. After all those long hours we're glad to bring you this years SPIRIT 1993. The staff would like to thank all that have helped us in the process of "Making The Pieces Fit."

FACULTY AND STAFF

Norman Stevens

Norman O. Stevens has decided to leave Mill River this year for his well deserved retirement. As an Upperhouse master and friend to all of the Mill River community, his efforts and guidance over the past nine years will certainly be missed.

Norman Stevens received his bachelor of Science in Agricultural Education from the University of Vermont and then went on to teach agriculture education at Whitingham, Chelsea and Chester High School. While at Chester High School, Norm worked towards and received his Master of School Administration from Keene State College. Through hard work and dedication to education Norm Stevens became the assistant principal at Chester High School and then to the new Green Mountain Union High School. In 1974 Norman Stevens was selected to become the principal of Green Mountain Union High School where he remained until coming to Mill River in 1984.

Through Norm Stevens' devotion to education, we are all a little better for having learned from him, for having worked with him, and just for having known him. Good Luck Norman Stevens!

John, Follow the road to where your heart leads. The road most traveled is where you'll find happiness. Congratulations. Luck in your future plans. Petie-Michele.

Dear Amanda, Congratulations! We are very proud of you. May you always have health, happiness, love & success. Love always, Dad, Mom, Richard & Scott.

Sharon, You have so much energy! You can do anything you want in your life if you keep it channeled in the right direction. Be happy to be the special person that you are. We love you Mom, Dad.

John, Hold your head high when others are low. Walk with kings and not lose your common touch. Then you'll be a man my "son" Mom, Dad.

Dear Seth: Where have the years flown? You have brought all of us joy, pride, laughter, and love. Love & Luck, Mom, Dad, and Dan.

Congratulations Punkie! We wish you success and happiness in all that you hope and strive for. We love you & are proud to be your parents. Forever, Mom and Dad.

We know what we are, but know not what we may be. Bill, doubt whom you will, but never doubt yourself. Love, Mom, Dad, Tabitha, and Stephen.

Charles, good luck in the future in a wonderful son and grandson. With all our love Mom, Ed, Gramp, and Gram.

Congratulations to the worlds most loyal Red Sox fan- Jenny Gallipo! May life go as smoothly as a Clemens no-hitter. Love Gummy, Linda, Sara, Tom.

I have watched you for a long time now, Mick, my heart is full. You have grown into the person I was hoping for, Mom.

Julia, May your achievements in the years ahead be as happy and successful as our crabbing experiences! We are so very proud of you. Love, Mom + Dad.

Tom, Much happiness, love and success in all you do. We are very proud of you. Love, Mom, Dad + Laura Congratulations Jennifer Gallipo. Our angle face Baby girl! As with all species on the endangered list, you are one of a kind. Papa would be proud! Love Dad, Mom, Roddy.

Congratulations Jenn Gallipo! My, how you've changed. We barely recognize you!! May your hopes and dreams come to reality. Love Nana and Bobby.

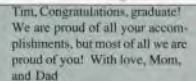

Heather, Congratulations! With your hardwork, dedication, & persistence, we know you will be very successful in pursuing your field of genetics. May God be with you. Love Mom, Dad & Lance.

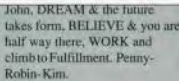

Dear Ashlee, May all your dreams come true. Good luck in the future. We are very proud of you. Love, Mom and Dad.

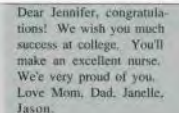

Josh, We're proud of you, for everything you've done. You overcame all obstacles barring none. You worked hard in every way, athletics & academics every day!

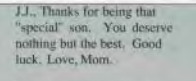

Tim, Congratulations, graduate! We are proud of all your accomplishments, but most of all we are proud of you! With love, Mom, and Dad

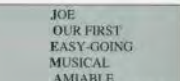

John, DREAM & the future takes form, BELIEVE & you are half way there, WORK and climb to Fulfillment. Penny-Robin-Kim.

Dear Jennifer, congratulations! We wish you much success at college. You'll make an excellent nurse. We're very proud of you. Love Mom, Dad, Janelle, Jason.

J.J., Thanks for being that "special" son. You deserve nothing but the best. Good luck. Love, Mom.

JOE OUR FIRST EASY-GOING MUSICAL AMIABLE NUMEROUS JOYS Thanks for so much. We are so proud of you. Love, Dad, Mom, Nicole, & Annette
